7.2 – Best Practices

7.2.1 – Describe at least two institutional best practices

Teachers Movement for Self Initiation The teachers' movement for self initiation was launched in 2009 for overall development of the college in the fields of Academic, finance and self sustenance. A few innovative programmes have been taken up under this movement which aims to bring all round development of the college. Imphal College, being a government college the financial assistance received from the state government majorly meets the salary component for the existing teaching faculty and non- teaching staff. For the last many years the state government has been facing financial constraints in most of the times, however it managed to provides sizeable funds for repairing of infrastructures, approach roads inside the campus and making the running water available to most of the existing washrooms. It is worth mentioning that development of infrastructures, research and all developmental projects take back seat due to lack of funds. Since the college is an affiliating college under the Manipur University, it has limited academic flexibility with limited range of programme options and introduction of new courses with higher employability along with evolving credit system. Imphal College puts efforts in terms of curriculum enrichment and co-curricular activities. The practices included under the teachers' movement for self initiation are:

1. Open Library: The Imphal college 'Open Library' is a unique system of making the students acquainted with books. Initially it started as an experimental library by the teachers of the college in 2008. The books, journals, magazines, news papers and all reading materials are donated by the faculty members, staff members and even by the students themselves. The philosophy behind the system is that "Books are indispensable and it goes where the reader is". This practice was adjudged as one of the best practice in the Cycle -I NAAC Assessment. Since its initiation the practice has been gaining its popularity in terms of increasing numbers of readers, availability of more reading materials and increasing level of responsibility by all stakeholders of the open library.

2. Development of Linthoingambi Garden: Under the initiative of the lady faculty members of the college Linthoingambi Garden was established in 2009 with financial contribution of Rs. 500/- from each lady faculty members and donations from other faculty members and non-teaching staff of the college. The funds are used for development and maintenance of the garden. With the establishment of "Imphal College Students Eco-Club" in 2014, day-to-day maintenance of the garden has been jointly carried out by the student members of the Eco-Club along with the lady faculty members of the college. Besides, the regular maintenance of the garden, annual awareness programmes on Eco-friendly practices and activities for the students are also conducted regularly.

EARN WHILE YOU LEARN (EWYL) Imphal College is strategically located at the periphery of the Imphal city, wherein 70 to 80 of students enrolled are from the villages and towns that lie on both sides of the Imphal-Tiddim National highway (NH-150). Most of the students are from economically weaker section of the society. While undergoing their undergraduate courses in the college, students seek opportunities to make some dignified earning to lessen the burden on their parents. These earning intentions of students are noticed by the mentors in the regular mentor-mentee interactions. The matter was discussed in the IQAC meetings and with the approval of the college Principal it was decided to informally engage these willing students to assist the college non-teaching staff in unskilled tasks such as shifting of desks benches from one room to another, sticking roll tags on the desks before the commencement of semester examinations, painting flower beds, decorating the trees growing inside the campus, hoisting coloured flags etc. In the initial years only a few students /learners were available for engagement in unskilled works in the college campus. With the progress of time EWYL scheme gains popularity among the students as more and more students are willing to make themselves available for the scheme. In order to fulfil the financial needs of student from economically weaker section institutionalization of the scheme was becoming an imperative to the college. Consequently students were instructed to maintain a register to enter the names and details of willing students to tender their unskilled services under the scheme. Further, all the teaching non-teaching staff of Imphal College are encouraged to engage our students in all unskilled works wherever possible under the scheme.

7.3 – Institutional Distinctiveness

7.3.1 – Provide the details of the performance of the institution in one area distinctive to its vision, priority and thrust in not more than 500 words

Imphal College being a premier college in the state received a very large numbers of applicants seeking admission in BA/BSc first semester courses. As stated earlier majority of the applicants are from rural back ground. All serious students who desires to receive quality education at an affordable cost prefers Imphal college, because being a Government college admission fees are comparatively very reasonable and it is only one time payment at the time of initial admission. College authority takes the aspirations of the students and their parents very seriously to fulfil it to the highest possible level. The college has been performing satisfactorily in providing quality education to all its students and mainly focussing on their overall efforts towards their progression and employability. A robust mechanism of regular and online feedback from students towards "Teaching-Learning" is taken every year which helps in monitoring the progress as well as in understanding learners' needs. Teaching-Learning has evolved in these years, with teachers using different teaching pedagogies. Every student is assigned with a mentor-teacher who guides the students for their academic progression after a proper analysis of the student. During an academic session career counselling of the final semester students are regularly held in collaboration with various agencies with special focus on future courses of study after completion of their under graduate courses. In order to instil a sense of social responsibility, students are encouraged to participate in social activities by enrolling as volunteers in NSS, NCC, Eco-Club, Aura, Red-ribbon Club. YRC etc.
